

BST Histopathology
Screening Criteria for July 2023 Entry

Each applicant accepted for interview must demonstrate the following in their submitted application:

1. The candidate must demonstrate a clear understanding of the specialty of Histopathology. Candidates must outline what the speciality of Histopathology entails and explain its role within the context of a clinical site and how the training programme is structured.

OR

2. The candidate must demonstrate evidence of an interest in Histopathology beyond what would be expected as normal exposure during medical school training or clinical duties. Examples here include medical student electives or observerships in hospital Histopathology departments.

Prof Niall Swan
National Specialty Director
Histopathology Training Programme
Faculty of Pathology, RCPI

21.09.2022